

Please Join us for a fun and interactive workshop on:
"Art Therapy"

Parents will become familiar with some basic art therapy techniques and get to practice them. You will learn how art can help you connect in new ways with your child!

Presented By: Heather Hutchinson - Certified Art Therapist and Licensed Creative Arts Therapist - specializing in working with children with autism spectrum disorders and other disabilities both in private practice, group, and agency settings. She will explain how the multi-sensory approach of art therapy can be a helpful intervention for children who have difficulties expressing themselves verbally and how it will help them learn critical developmental skills.
